

Lava Shells Celebrates 100 Accounts in 6 Months

The revolutionary hot Lava Shells massage from Shared Beauty Secrets has secured its 100th account in just 6 months since the official UK launch earlier this year.

Shared Beauty Secrets are distributors of innovative, professional wellness therapies and products from around the world. The hottest product this year is proving to be the pioneering Lava Shells Massage, a seamless massage of heat and touch using recycled Tiger Clam shells from the South Pacific.

WHO'S WHO

Kirstie Allen, Director of Pinks Boutique - the professional organic specialists, has just been named in the Natural Beauty Yearbook's Top 20 Who's Who for 2010. Kirstie, who set up Pinks Boutique along with her husband Luke Sherriff in early 2008, is featured alongside natural beauty industry heavyweights such as Jo Fairley and Sarah Stacey (beauty journalists and authors), Shirin Valipour (Neal's Yard Remedies) and Margo Marrone (founder of the Organic Pharmacy).

Pinks Boutique has made a huge impact on the professional beauty industry, becoming a well-recognised and respected brand within a very short period of time. Thanks to Kirstie's drive and innovation, Pinks Boutique has proven that it is possible to have an organic and natural professional product which is as good as, if not better than, the non-natural alternatives which are out there.

Kirstie said 'It is a huge honour to be listed alongside some very influential people and I hope it bodes well for things to come for Pinks Boutique. I was 17th in the rankings this year, so I am looking to run up the ladder for 2011! In such a retail dominated list it is a powerful statement that the professional beauty industry is starting to become involved and that certified organics really are being demanded by the consumer in salons and spas. It is such a beautifully presented yearbook - definitely worth a look.'
